Dear Mike,

Hope you are OK. We are having a great holiday here. We arrived in Caernarfon, Wales, four days ago and we are staying in a small hotel in the old town. Yesterday we went to see the castle, and tomorrow we are driving to Snowdonia National Park.

At the moment we are sitting in a café in the city centre after spending a lot of money shopping. In the afternoon, we plan to relax on the beach.

People here are very friendly. They are easy to talk to. The main language here is English but about a twenty per cent of the Welsh can speak both Welsh and English. Next week we are visiting a village that has the longest place name in the world: Llanfairpwllgwyngyllgogerych - wyrndrobwllantysiliogogogoch. Try to say that!
